

Research Mentoring Seminar Cultivating Effective, Culturally Responsive Mentoring

Mentor development can make the difference between a mutually beneficial and productive mentoring relationship and one that is draining for the mentor and discouraging for the mentee. This seminar offers research-based materials paired with just-in-time support for common mentoring situations and potential challenges.

- Explore mentoring strategies through case studies, discussions, readings
- Compare mentor and mentee goals and get on the same page
- Learn helpful time-management strategies
- Discuss mentoring issues as they come up
- Collaborate and problem-solve with a group of peers
- Reflect on your mentoring philosophy

Fall 2020 section for faculty to be scheduled

Indicate interest here:

<https://go.wisc.edu/s7u1ot>

Contact Dr. Amber Smith
amber.smith@wisc.edu

Contact Dr. Jessica Maher
jessica.maher@wisc.edu

WISCIENCE
UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON

The Collaborative for Advancing Learning and Teaching
UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON

DELTA
Integrating Research, Teaching, and Learning